Intelligence Overview

Introduction

The Erinnyes Group provides essential services and solutions for homeland security, national defense and intelligence. We are a trusted asset to our global customers providing them with high intelligence services, technology solutions, vulnerability assessments, physical & cyber penetration testing and defense advisory. We work side by side with our customers delivering world-class services and solutions that solve their most complex mission requirements.

Experience that Counts

We are an international business founded by retired and reserve combat experienced special operations and intelligence personnel. Our assets are referral-only and include U.S. Green Berets, Delta, SEALs, Pararescue and other elite members of the special operations community. Our team members have extensive experience in defense technology, intelligence, border enforcement, threat analysis, cyber security, physical security, infrastructure interdependencies and emergency management. We possess active U.S. Government security clearances and are a U.S. Service Disabled Veteran Owned Small Business (SDVOB).

Intelligence Training, Analyses and Application

The Erinnyes Group can complement, mentor and train management, collectors and analysts to execute all aspects of the operational intelligence process. This will assist law enforcement elements by giving them the ability to leverage minimal resources with the maximum impact (force multiplier).

The Erinnyes Group provides intelligence resources that stem from Counter Intelligence (CI), Human Intelligence (HUMINT), Signal Intelligence (SIGINT) and Imagery Intelligence (IMINT) communities. Our experienced personnel have operated intelligence centers, managed and trained intelligence operations (overt and clandestine), conducted in depth analysis and have been imbedded in high-risk operations. Our personnel apply techniques such as human terrain modeling that is applicable to gang activity, drug & weapon smuggling, human trafficking and organized crime operations. These are similar methods from government agencies and the military to fight terrorist insurgency and counter proliferation operations. Products are generated to enhance surveillance capabilities, proactively prevent criminal actions, protect high value resources and deliver critical information for active engagements.

We train and apply specialized tradecraft for civilian operations to evaluate, identify, and target criminal elements. Our personnel complement current operations, and assist with information sharing and coordination across local, tribal, state and federal levels. Most of our assets have active U.S. Government clearances that can bridge across federal operations and resources.

Summary

The Erinnyes Group is built on a solid foundation of incomparable real-world experience that delivers confidence and security to our customers. We provide services and solutions that are critical for them to prevail in the areas of defense, intelligence, and homeland security.

Our highly qualified special operations and intelligence professionals provide a wide range of expert security and intelligence support services to help neutralize threats at home and abroad.
